

Kodiak Emergency Operations Center

Community Mitigation Plan

To help prevent the spread of COVID-19 in Kodiak, the Kodiak Emergency Operations Center has developed this community mitigation plan.

Everyone should continue to practice these personal protective measures to help prevent the spread of COVID-19:

- Social distancing*
- Wear face coverings
- Wash hands frequently
- Minimize social interactions
- Stay home and isolate yourself if you are sick

Depending on the severity of community spread, the Emergency Services Director may implement any of the following mitigation measures:

- Level 0: Personal protective measures
- Level 1: No gatherings larger than 20 people without the ability to social distance
- Level 2: Essential services and critical infrastructure only; limited patron capacity
- Level 3: Limited essential services and critical infrastructure only

As cases, hospitalizations, and deaths increase or decrease, mitigation measures will be adjusted.

Community Mitigation Summary Table

Risk	Level	Mitigation Measure	Community Conditions
Low	0	Personal protective measures	No to low levels of community spread
Med	1	No gatherings larger than 20 people without the ability to social distance; face coverings highly recommended	Low to medium levels of community spread
High	2	Essential services and critical infrastructure only (Attachment A); limited patron capacity; face coverings required	Medium to high levels of community spread; hospitals reaching care capacity; on recommendations of local or state public health guidance
Extreme	3	Limited essential services and critical infrastructure only	Uncontrolled community spread; surge in hospitalizations and deaths

* Social distance of at least six feet should be maintained between individuals and groups of non-household members; if singing or projecting of voice, then a minimum of ten feet between each person (Source: State of Alaska Reopen Alaska Responsibly Guidance, Attachment N, Social, Religious, and Other Gatherings ADVISORY DOCUMENT PHASE III-IV dated May 22, 2020).

 Exceptions for individuals that have medical or health conditions that could be further complicated by wearing a face covering
